★ JULIE ORSER

Several years ago, Julie Orser dazzled viewers at Soundvision Gallery with an installation of more than 100 intimate, delicate black and white photographs printed on the back of dominoes. Shortly afterwards, she moved to Los Angeles, although she resurfaced recently at the PDX Film Fest with a very smart and entertaining short film that took top prize in the hotly contested shorts competition. Now she returns to PNCA (her alma mater) with a sound and video installation from her series entitled Anna Moore. Shown concurrently with Orser's show is a program of international video works organized by Art Office, a collective co-directed by Orser in California. PNCA Feldman Gallery, 1241 NW Johnson. Mon-Sun. Through Feb 24.
